NUMBER 51

The Bourbon Fiscal Court.

The Bourbon Fiscal Court met in regular monthly session Friday, with Judge Dundon presiding. The usual number of claims were allowed and ordered paid.

The Court appointed Esquires Mann and Howell a committee to have the Maysville and Lexington turnpike surfaced from the city limits to the Bethlehem pike. This part of the road lies immediately in front of the new fair grounds and will be built with the modern process of crushed rock, rolled and oiled.

Squire Anderson, of North Middletown precinct, presented a bill for three dollars for attending Circuit Court to make his report, as is required by law. County Attorney Moore objected to the payment of same on grounds that it was an unlawful claim, and was sustained by the Court.

No other business of importance was transacted.

Our New Superintendent.

The London, Ky., Echo prints a lengthy notice of the Teachers' Institute just closed there, and this is what it has to say of the new Superintendent of the Paris City Schools:

"The institute is being conducted by Prof. George W. Chapman, of Paris, who was selected as instructor, and it was the opinion of all who attended that no better selection could have been made. Prof. Chapman is a man of forceful character, of great intellectual ability, and if the teachers give due attention to his instruction, the pupils of the county who attend our schools will be benefitted to a greater extent than for many years."

Kentuckian Gets Good Place.

Richard Reid Rogers, formerly of Mt. Sterling, now of New York, has been chosen by Chairman Chonts as counsel for the Panama Canal Commission and sailed for Panama last Friday.

The position carries with it a handsome salary, and the selection of a Kentuckian for so important a position is quite an honor to the State. Mr. Rogers was the stepson of Judge Richard Reid, deceased, and was born in Bourbon county, being the son of the late Ben Rogers.

"Elk" Killed By Trolley Car.

Mr. J. M. Brennan is grieving over the loss of his beautiful Irish setter, "Elk." The dog had run off from home Sunday, and happened to run up on his master at the interurban station. Being a very intelligent dog and knowing he had done wrong, he was slowly creeping toward Mr. Brennan as a car was coming in, and to make him get out of the way of the car a little boy struck at him with an umbrella which made him jump right under the wheel, his head and shoulders being severed from his body. He was an intelligent and valuable hunting dog, probably the best trained dog in the county, and highly prized by his owner. Mr. Brennan had the remains put in a box and buried in his yard.
